

Changes to the Contracted Providers section of the DHS website

As a DHS-contracted provider, you may depend on the Allegheny County Department of Human Services (DHS) website for specifics about contracts, audits and other aspects of the work you do for us.

With that in mind, the Doing Business (formerly Contracted Providers) section of the DHS website has been completely redesigned to be more user-friendly.

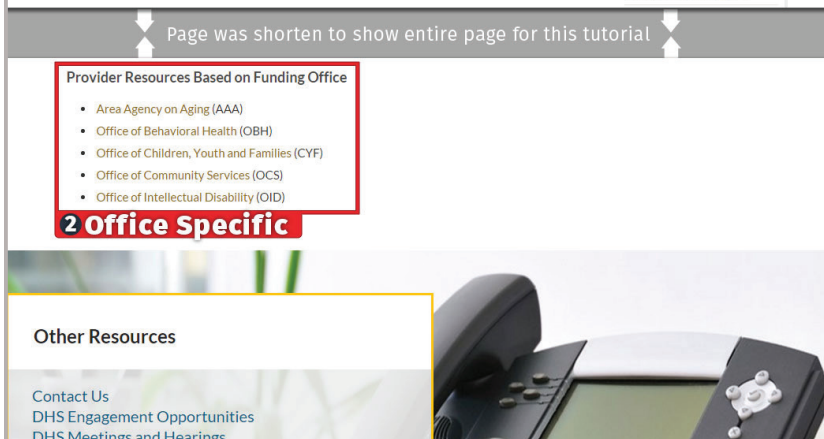

- You can quickly get to the Doing Business section by clicking on the Doing Business link in the gold bar that runs across the homepage. Image
- Doing Business is also a sub-section of Resources.

Doing Business Section Hints

Here are a few hints to help you get acquainted with the new grouping of provider information.

1. The new CURRENT DHS-CONTRACTED PROVIDERS page includes any information that is related to EVERY contracted provider regardless of their source of funding.
2. At the bottom, and in the sub-navigation bar on the right of the CURRENT DHS-CONTRACTED PROVIDERS page, there are links to office-specific pages that have all the information needed by a DHS contractor who is funded by that office.

Communiqués for All DHS Providers

DHS-contracted providers are encouraged to visit this page frequently. Announcements concerning policy changes and best-practices along with information dealing with conferences and staff development opportunities will be posted. Announcements will remain posted for two weeks and then deleted.

URGENT

Health Department Director Issues Standing Naloxone Order for Pharmacies
Allegheny County Health Department Director Dr. Karen Hacker issued a countywide standing order for naloxone, or Narcan. The standing order allows any licensed pharmacy in the county, which chooses to participate, to dispense naloxone to individuals at risk of a heroin or opioid-related overdose, or those who may witness one.

PA pharmacies that carry naloxone
Naloxone is the overdose antidote medication that can save a life at risk because of opioid (heroin) overdose. For the most current list visit the DDAF website and click on "Save a Life" then Pharmacy Locations Carrying Naloxone.

Engaging Young People to End Dating and Sexual Violence, November 18 and 19
FISA Foundation and the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence (PCADV) present two timely workshops - one for providers and one for young adults. Participation is free but registration is REQUIRED.

November 18 - Engaging Youth: Working Across Generations to Prevent Dating Violence will present specific and concrete ways to convey the messages about primary prevention, a healthier definition of masculinity and ideas for teaching constructive bystander intervention.

November 19 - Ending Dating Violence: How to Be The Generation of Change will discuss with the young adult audience ways to start the conversation about prevention and help them feel inspired to be an instrument of change.

3. A new page, COMMUNIQUE, includes important, timely information for all providers. It should be checked routinely. Posts on this page will only last two weeks or until the event expires.

- Some DHS offices may have office-specific communiques page. In those cases, those pages should also be checked routinely for new information.

General hints

The back button of the Allegheny County website does not function properly in Internet Explorer (IE). It is recommended that you use Chrome, Firefox or Safari as your web browser instead.

You can get to the DHS homepage from the Allegheny County homepage through the Live or Government menus.

The Related Resources box at the bottom of each page has links appropriate for users of that page.
