Kudos: Cathleen Ruble

Cathleen Ruble, CYF caseworker and Child Welfare Education for Leadership (CWEL) student, was one of thirteen MSW students selected for the Excellence in Social Work Practice Award for the 2018-2019 academic year. This award "honor[s] students who demonstrate exemplary commitment to social work practice... [and] display outstanding potential as social workers, both through their scholarship in the classroom and in field-based learning." On a Facebook post recognizing Cathleen, Pennsylvania's Child Welfare Education and Research Programs wrote, "This award is tangible proof of the commitment our CWEB and CWEL students and graduates have to the field of social work and to the children and families they serve. Congratulations, Cathleen on a well-deserved award! We look forward to seeing how you transform the child welfare field!"
