The RFP at a Glance

Purpose

Allegheny County, through its Department of Human Services (DHS), is soliciting Proposals for both Process and Outcome Evaluations of its Hello Baby tiered intervention program (variously referred to herein as “Hello Baby” or “the Program”). Hello Baby is a voluntary program for parents of new babies designed to strengthen families, improve children’s outcomes, and maximize child and family well-being and safety. Hello Baby will use a predictive risk model (PRM) as the predominant way to tier supports.

DHS is seeking both a Process evaluation and an Outcome evaluation of Hello Baby. Proposers may submit a Proposal to conduct the Process evaluation only, the Outcome evaluation only, or both the Process and Outcome Evaluations. Proposers must be willing and able to work closely with the group of principal researchers from Auckland University of Technology and the University of Southern California who designed the Hello Baby predictive risk model as well as DHS and community-based provider staff who are responsible for implementation and ongoing improvement of Hello Baby. In addition, Proposers must work with our funding partner, Administration for Children and Families (ACF) and their evaluation team, to develop and finalize the evaluation plan.

Award Details

Allegheny County intends to award up to two contracts to perform the evaluation(s) for a total cost not to exceed $300,000 for direct cost. Proposed budgets may include indirect costs in addition to this amount. DHS expects to work in partnership with the Successful Proposer to secure additional resources, should the evaluation require it. The Successful Proposal will include ideas and strategies for how to work together to secure additional funding for evaluation.

At the conclusion of the RFP process, DHS anticipates entering into an Agreement with up to two Successful Proposers for a term of three years with a County option to extend the Agreement for at least one additional year. The first six months of the term of the Agreement with the Successful Proposer will serve as a design and planning (i.e., pilot) phase, with the Outcome evaluation phase to begin once the pilot phase is completed and the evaluation plan is approved by ACF. The Successful Proposer is expected to begin the Process evaluation during the pilot phase in order to provide feedback to resolve actionable barriers, enhance identified levers of change and refine components of the Program. Proposers should submit a budget as described in Section 3: Budget

Who can apply?

Anyone, including, but not limited to, non-profit organizations, for-profit organizations, small businesses and individuals, are eligible to submit a Proposal in response to this RFP. Proposers do not need to have an existing contract with Allegheny County to apply, but Proposers must meet all of Allegheny County’s contractual requirements (see Section 6: Contract Requirements for Successful Proposers) and have the programmatic, financial and staffing capability to provide the Contract Services. Multiple people and entities may partner together to submit a Proposal.

What's important to us?

DHS seeks a Successful Proposer that can:

- Conduct all evaluation activities, including data collection, analysis, and reporting, in a timely manner.
- Implement a methodologically rigorous evaluation
- Provide feedback about the Program's successes and challenges throughout the evaluation to inform the development/modification of the Program's design
- Maintain flexibility in the evaluation approach

The Successful Proposer MUST possess the following abilities and aspirations:

- Welcomes the opportunity to work as a thought partner with DHS, model developers, Evaluation Technical Assistance (TA) providers from ACF and providers to refine the design and implementation of the evaluation
- Is skilled at formulating an evaluation plan, including describing study design, sample size estimation, approach to sampling, use of administrative records, data collection, data collection instruments, data analysis, plan for data dissemination and use of findings for decision making
- Is willing to balance rigorous evaluation design with the County's goal of using all available resources to serve families

Timeline

Deadline for Proposers to submit questions about this RFP is 3 p.m. Eastern Time on Friday, January 24, 2020. Proposals must be submitted by 3 p.m. Eastern Time on Friday, January 31, 2020. We expect to notify Proposers of the County's decision to award an Agreement in March 2020.

Section 1: Why We Are Issuing this RFP

In early 2020, Allegheny County will launch Hello Baby. Hello Baby is a voluntary program for new parents designed to strengthen families, improve children’s outcomes, and maximize child and family well-being, safety and security. The Program is a tiered model with a variety of supports designed to meet families’ varied needs and interests. It will build upon the robust set of services and supports that already exist for families and introduce a more deliberate and differentiated approach to outreach for new parents. Through Hello Baby, DHS will reach more families who can benefit from support, better match families and babies to the right services, and ensure that the most vulnerable families and babies have access to the best supports we can offer. More information about Hello Baby is available at: <https://www.alleghenycounty.us/WorkArea/linkit.aspx?LinkIdentifier=id&ItemID=6442468129>

The tiered outreach and support strategies will be tailored to meet families’ strengths and needs:

- UNIVERSAL: This strategy is intended to help expectant and new parents navigate the myriad of resources that the County has to offer, many of which are free and universally available. Universal resources will include a new family-friendly website with helpful content and services for parents of infants and toddlers and a 24/7 “warm line” through 2-1-1 that will offer specialized parenting support to all families in Allegheny County.
- DIFFERENTIATED: We know that some families have higher levels of need, and Hello Baby will employ a differentiated outreach strategy to reach and connect these families to additional supports. Community outreach workers will visit a subset of families, welcoming the new babies, delivering a diaper basket and inviting the family to be a part of the nearest Family Support Center. All families of young children are welcome to visit these centers, but we hope this differentiated outreach strategy increases participation by more vulnerable families.
- PRIORITY: A small group of families with the highest needs will be offered priority care and services by a two-person team consisting of an experienced peer-support specialist and a social worker. These teams will work to engage families, learn about their needs and, together with the parents, develop a plan for leveraging their strengths, clearing barriers to appropriate services and providing them with wraparound assistance for as long as they wish or until the child turns three. This assistance can take the form of concrete goods (e.g., diapers, formula, food), assistance with immediate needs such as transportation to the pediatrician and eviction prevention, and connections to community resources such as evidence-based parenting programs, mental health and/or substance use treatment, child care and emergency housing.

Hello Baby will primarily rely upon Predictive Risk Model (PRM) to identify families who are eligible for differentiated and priority services. The PRM was developed by researchers from Auckland University of Technology (AUT) and University of Southern California (USC). The team, led by Rhema Vaithianathan (AUT), proposed both the Allegheny Family Screening Tool (AFST) and this predictive risk model (PRM). The Hello Baby predictive risk model uses administrative data to identify families who are at risk of adverse outcomes such as placement of the child. More information about the PRM can be found at Frequently Asked Question at: <https://www.alleghenycounty.us/WorkArea/linkit.aspx?LinkIdentifier=id&ItemID=6442468129>

Section 2: What We Are Looking For

DHS is seeking both a Process Evaluation and an Outcome Evaluation of the Program. Proposers may submit a Proposal to conduct the Process Evaluation only, the Outcome Evaluation only, or both the Process and Outcome Evaluations. Proposers must be willing and able to work closely with DHS leadership, evaluation TA providers from ACF, community stakeholders and the providers who are implementing the Program.

These Evaluations should not be construed as Evaluations of the PRM techniques themselves, which are undergoing a separate peer review and, as such, are not the primary focus of this RFP. Proposers should assume that the modeling approaches are thoroughly vetted and of high-quality.

Collaboration with the ACF

Hello Baby received funding from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Administration on Children, Youth and Families' Children's Bureau through the Children's Board's Community Collaborations to Strengthen and Preserve Families grant. The Successful Proposer will be expected to spend the planning period working with evaluation technical assistance providers from ACF to finalize the evaluation plan, and all evaluation parameters are subject to final approval of ACF. Additionally, per our grant agreement, the Successful Proposer will be required to comply with all elements of the grant's cooperative agreement, including participation in activities and efforts as requested by ACF such as site visits and grantee meetings, sharing data collected through the Hello Baby evaluation with the national evaluator and, collecting outcome measures according to a plan developed by ACF to ensure common measurement collection across ACF's grantees

Purpose and Focus of the Evaluations

The purpose of the Process and Outcome Evaluations is to generate findings that can be used by a broad array of Hello Baby stakeholders, including DHS leadership, Hello Baby providers and families, and the prevention field in general. The primary goals of the Evaluations are to:

1. Understand the factors that affect Program engagement, retention and attrition.
2. Document the participant experience across Hello Baby's tiered levels (i.e., Universal, Differentiated and Priority).
3. Assess implementation facilitators, barriers faced during implementation, and strategies used to overcome barriers.
4. Monitor select Hello Baby participant outcomes through a combination of administrative records and primary data collection.

DHS is interested in evaluating all three tiers of the Program and expects applicants to design an evaluation plan for the Universal, Differentiated and Priority components of the Program. The primary focus of the Evaluations should be on the priority tier.

Process Evaluation

The Process Evaluation will be an important tool that the Program's team and leadership should be able to use during implementation of Hello Baby, to make ongoing improvements and modifications. Topics that should be addressed as part of the Process Evaluation shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

 - What are the successes and challenges with referrals to services and cross-system coordination?

Design Options for the Process Evaluation

Design options for the Process Evaluation include primary data collection and/or analyses of secondary data from administrative records. These options can be used in combination or separately and conducted once or repeatedly during the evaluation to measure change over time. Some examples of potential data collection methods include SMS text surveys, client observations and focus groups. In addition to collecting new data for the evaluation of Hello Baby implementation, several options using available secondary data could further strengthen study findings. Potential data sources include the Allegheny County Data Warehouse, hospital data records and Hello Baby cost records. More information about the Data Warehouse can be found at <https://www.alleghenycountyanalytics.us/index.php/2018/08/13/allegheny-county-data-warehouse/>

Outcome Evaluation

The purpose of the Outcome Evaluation is to determine, using a methodologically rigorous design, if participation in Hello Baby leads to expected changes in parent and child outcomes.

¹ The Program will use a case management framework developed by the Camden Coalition, a national exemplar in reaching and connecting with the most vulnerable populations

We are open to research designs supported by the HomVEE Standards², including, but not limited to, randomized control trials. When selecting the design, Proposers should consider cost, feasibility and DHS's commitment to serving all individuals we have resources to support. Applicants should examine Outcomes and outputs at each tier of the Program. The Outcome Evaluation may consider some/all the following questions:

Universal

- Engagement
 - Do parents utilize the universal services offered through Hello Baby?
- Outcomes
 - Do parents of children in Allegheny County have an overall positive perception of Hello Baby?

Differentiated

- Engagement/ Enrollment
 - Do outreach workers connect with new mothers and fathers?
 - Do outreach workers successfully enroll families in Family Support Centers?
 - What percentage of the target parents enrolled (received an intake) in the Program?
 - What percentage of parents received services beyond an intake assessment?
- Retention
 - Which parents remain involved in the Program over time and which parents withdraw?
- Outcomes
 - Do outreach workers increase awareness of available resources, including the local Family Support Centers?
 - Do parents of children in Allegheny County have an overall positive perception of Hello Baby?

Priority

- Engagement/Enrollment
 - What percentage of the families enrolled (received an intake assessment) in the Program?
 - What percentage received services beyond an intake assessment?
- Retention
 - Which families remained involved in the program over time and which families formally withdrew? What are other sources of attrition (e.g., moving)?
- Outcomes
 - Does the Program reduce maltreatment?
 - The literature suggests that there are numerous challenges in measuring maltreatment, one of which is the effect of surveillance bias. We would like the Proposer to suggest ways to measure serious maltreatment.
 - Does the Program increase family stability (e.g., stable housing, regular income,) and decrease crises?
 - Family Outcomes

² <https://homvee.acf.hhs.gov/publications/methods-standards>

- Are family's essential needs addressed (e.g., access and receipt of concrete services, referrals to community services)?
- Are parents' health and well-being needs met (e.g., parenting skills, access to health care)?
- Do families utilize social support?
- Do families feel competent to safely parent?
- Child Outcomes (beyond maltreatment)
 - Are children enrolled in and attending reliable childcare (or are parents providing for safe and consistent care)?
 - Are children's health, developmental and safety needs met (e.g., immunizations, access to health care, well-child visits, developmental screenings, child safety, safe sleep)?

Design Options for the Outcome Evaluation

Design options for the Outcome Evaluation include both primary data collection and analyses of secondary data from administrative records. These options can be used in combination or separately and conducted once or repeatedly during the course of the evaluation to measure change over time. These research tasks could begin at different timeframes during the course of the evaluation. Certain administrative data may take time to access while primary data collection would require initial planning, instrument development and testing, and participant recruitment.

One option for an Outcome study requiring primary data collection is a longitudinal, follow-up survey of Hello Baby clients. Such a survey could be executed in several ways, and the proposer will be asked to develop a strategy for the design, recruitment and implementation of follow-up surveys. Additionally, multiple secondary data sources are available that can be utilized to examine the characteristics, experiences and outcomes of Hello Baby clients. Potential design options include an analysis of data from the Allegheny County Data Warehouse, analysis of data from hospitals, and analysis of national survey data to draw comparisons to Hello Baby clients on related measures.

 - 0 – Not addressed in Proposal
 - 1 – Poor
 - 2 – Below expectations
 - 3 – Meets expectations
 - 4 – Exceeds expectations
 - 5 – Outstanding
- c. DHS will tally the average scores of the members of the Evaluation Committee and report a list of average scores to the entire Committee. The Committee will meet, consider the average scores, and arrive at a consensus on which Proposer(s) can best provide the Contract Services in response to the RFP. The Committee will have the discretion to proceed as follows: (i) to recommend to the Director of DHS that a reduced number of Proposals be shortlisted for more extensive review through a formal oral presentation to the Committee; or (ii) to recommend to the Director of DHS that DHS request authorization for the County to enter into an Agreement(s) with the Successful Proposer(s).
- d. As described in c above, DHS, on behalf of the County, shall have the exclusive discretion to shortlist a reduced number of Proposals for more extensive review. In this case, DHS may request that shortlisted Proposers make a formal oral presentation to the Evaluation Committee. Each Committee member will individually score the oral presentation of the shortlisted Proposers using the following criteria and the scale outlined in 5.1b. The maximum score that a shortlisted Proposer's oral presentation can receive is 15 points:

- Presentation demonstrates Proposer’s ability to implement the proposed program effectively (5 points)
 - Proposer’s answers to Evaluation Committee’s questions (5 points)
 - Proposer’s presentation is thoughtful and professional (5 points)
- e. DHS will tally the average scores of the Evaluation Committee and report a list of average scores to the entire Committee. The Committee will meet, consider the scores, and arrive at a consensus on which Proposer(s) can best provide the Contract Services in response to the RFP.
 - f. The Committee will submit its recommendation for award of an Agreement or Agreements to the Director of DHS for approval. The Director will in turn submit a request to the County Manager for approval for the County to enter into an Agreement or Agreement with the Successful Proposer(s).
 - g. At any time during the evaluation process, DHS may contact a Proposer to discuss any areas of the Proposal needing clarification or further explanation.
 - h. As part of determining Proposers’ eligibility to enter into a contract with Allegheny County, all Proposers’ financial audits or other documentation will be reviewed by DHS fiscal analysts to ensure Proposers’ financial stability.
 - i. The County is under no obligation to award or enter into an Agreement with a Proposer as a result of this RFP. The County reserves the right to reject any and all Proposals.
 - j. All Proposers will be notified of the County’s final decision of which Proposer(s) will be awarded an Agreement.
