

Pennsylvania Older Adult Protective Services Act addresses:

- Physical abuse
- Verbal/emotional abuse
- Sexual abuse
- Financial exploitation
- Neglect
- Abandonment
- Self-neglect

The Pennsylvania Older Adult Protective Services Act

- › helps the victim and the caregiver through intervention.
- › establishes a program to first detect abuse or neglect, and then reduce, correct or eliminate incidents of abuse or neglect involving older adults.
- › defines protective services as activities, resources and supports to detect, prevent, reduce or eliminate abuse, neglect (including self-neglect), financial exploitation and abandonment of older adults.

DHS IS responsible for providing and administering publicly funded services to Allegheny County residents.

DHS PRINCIPLES

All services will be

- high quality, comprehensive, and accessible.
- individualized and designed to be respectful of the unique cultural characteristics of each individual and/or community
- integrated and offered through a team approach that recognizes the capacity of individuals and families to identify their own strengths, needs, and goals; create relationships with natural supports; and take steps necessary to accomplish these goals.

Older Adult Protective Services

 Area Agency on Aging

Older Adult Protective Services intervenes in situations where an individual 60 years of age or older becomes the object of abuse or neglect at the hands of another person. The program will also become involved when an older adult demonstrates an inability to meet his or her own basic needs.

The Process

A concerned individual (e.g., relative, friend, neighbor) suspects an older adult is at risk for, or the object of, abuse or neglect and calls 412-350-6905 or 1-800-490-8505 (Statewide) to report the concern. Or, an older adult who feels s/he is being abused or neglected, or is unable to meet her/his own basic needs, decides to call. The reporter may remain anonymous or use his/her name. In either case, the reporter's name will never be made public.

A trained staff member takes the call and determines whether or not the facts meet the criteria for an eligible report.

The older adult must meet all of the following criteria to be eligible for a report of need.

- › a resident of Pennsylvania;
- › 60 years of age or older;
- › without a responsible caregiver;
- › unable to perform or obtain services necessary to maintain physical or mental health; AND
- › at imminent risk of danger to person or property.

If eligible, the case is assigned to a caseworker.

- › In emergency or life-threatening situations, the investigation will begin immediately.
- › Otherwise, the caseworker will conduct an investigation that begins with a face-to-face interview with the older adult within 24 to 72 hours, depending on the urgency.

If the investigation determines that the older adult is incapacitated (lacking in the ability to care for him/herself because of mental or physical disability) and abuse or neglect is occurring, the caseworker will take appropriate action to reduce or eliminate the risk to the older adult.

If the investigation finds the case does not meet the criteria to qualify for protective services, the case is labeled unsubstantiated and closed. If the older adult is in need of other services, the caseworker offers the incapacitated older adult help.

Emphasis is always placed on the individual's right to self-determination. Anyone, who has mental capacity, has the legal right to refuse services. If services are refused, the case is closed.

Help may include a care plan for any or all of the following:

- › In-home services
- › Financial management services
- › Court-ordered intervention or guardianship determination (extreme circumstances)
